

ABSTRACT

TITLE: ALL ROUNDER

For achieving a knowledgeable score in academic level, every student is in need of a backup strategical method of preparing. In order to provide certain basic information, my idea of project is an Open-source resource site for competitive exams. In this website, is a collection of sources that mainly includes Question papers, Tips and strategical Ideas in separate, for each examination purpose. In addition to this, a mock test in the form of actual examination texture is also added to acknowledge oneself as an individual. Any student can login to the site, whenever they want and can access through the materials/resources. With all these, a simple and a neat UI will be provided to for the user to interact.
